inspector Byrnes there is in progress an exodus of pickpockets and burglars from this city to Indianapolis, where they hope to be able to rob with impunity in the great crowds, which be attracted by the funeral of Vice-President Hendricks. The inspector said ; "If steps similar to those taken here by superintendent Murray and myself at the time of Gen. Grant's funeral are not adopted, the place will be sacked. While one set of thieves are working the crowds another batch will be robbing the houses.

The funeral services over the remains of young Ford, of Louisville, who died suddenly at the Coleman house last week, were held yesterday. Nearly all the members of the Louisville colony in New York were present. The body will be placed temporarily in a vault at Woodlawn, but will be removed later to Louisville.

Capt. Gunner, of the Twenth-eighth precinct, has made an investigation of the circumstances attending the fire in Sixty-fourth street on the 23 inst., in which Mary Fialka and her two children were burned to death. It is learned that Henry Kohout, the prisoner who is charged with having set fire to the building, is an Anarchist, and six months ago he was manufacturing and experimenting with dyna-

Speaking of Jno. Kelly's health, the Times says: "It does not look now as if he would be able to do any mental work for a long time to come. The date of the departure of himself and family has not been fixed, but they will probably go as soon as cold weather comes and he is pronounced by his physician strong enough to travel."

The Herald, speaking of last season's races, says: "James T. Williams is the seventh largest winner of the year, with $37,655 to his credit; Joe Cotton, the three year old, heads the list, having won $21,800, which entitles him to fifth place in the list of individual winners of 1885. Bob Miles is the next important winner in this stable. Having started twenty-eight times, be won ten races and $12,985. Hoggins' stables won $22,737, having started in fifty-nine races and won twelve. The famous young Kentucky stallion Epaulet, which was recently bought at auction for $300, was sold on Friday to Robert Steele, at Philadelphia, for $22,-

Miss Ada Sweet, late United States pension agent at Chicago, is visiting friends in this city. She was astonished at reading in print yesterday that she had been happily wedded to an Iowa gentleman. The bride is another lady. The mistake was made by a Long Island reporter.

Fifty-one bartenders were arrested here yesterday for the violation of the exercise law. The low dives in Mulerry street were raided and 150 prisoners captured.

During the past month the City of Yonkers has been aguated by rumors of a plan to annex that to New York. The people there have been discussing the subject and the project has met very serious opposition. The territory is contiguous.

The movement started among the children of the public schools, who propose to contribute a nickel a mouth to a fund for the monument.

The Times special from Montreal says some French conservative papers of this province are urging the government to take steps to assert Canada's claim to the State of Maine, which they allege is a just one. The French press of this city has fallen into the trap and are gravely debating whether the American government would be illing to accept a compensation in money for the territory Canada would receive by a rectification of frontier.

A Chapter of Accidents. On Saturday night last a young man named Andrew Walker, an employe of the L. N. O. & T. railroad and a sober, industrious youg man, got aboard of the down train to ride to his boarding place near the National cemetery. He jumped off near the Mint spring bayou bridge while the train was under full headway, and was kifled. An inquest was held on Sunday by acting Coroner Mackey and a verdict was rendered in secordance with the facts before the jury.

William West, a hard working colored man, fireman at the Spengler mills. fell off the Glass bayou bridge Sunday night, while drunk and was killed, Coroners jury rendered a verdict that deceased came to his death by accident.

Buckle--Feeney. Mr. J. W. Buckle and Miss Katie A. Feeney, were married at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at St. Paul's church Rev. Father Picherit officiating; the attendants being Mr. Jacob Ehrman and Miss Lizzie M. Fisher, and Mr. D. J. Feeney and Miss Ella Curran. The church was filled with friends of the contracting parties, who all joined in wishing them all happiness and prosperity. In the evening a reception, very largely attended, was held at the residence of the bride's mother, South street, and a number of very handpresents were displayed, the gifts of admiring friends. Backle was formerly a resident of New Orleans, La., but has been a resident of Vicksburg for some time and has won the sincere friendship and admiration of all who know him by his upright conduct and close application to business. Of the bride it would be difficult to say too much. A native of Vicksburg, she has spent her life on the hills and in the valleys of this old city, she has grown up to the maturity of young womanhood here and now, surrounded by the friends who have known and loved her from early childhood, she gives her life into the keeping of the man who had won her young affection and enters upon the stern realities of life as a wife. A Quietus on the Cry of Fraud. N. Y. Post, Rep.

The official count in Virginia puts an effectual quietus upon the claim that the Republicans were beaten by fraud. The total vote proves to have been nearly 4,000 greater than was cast in the Presidential election of 1884, which was by far the largest that bad ever been known. In 1881, when Mahone swept the State and made Comeron Governor, his party polled 111,473 votes. In 1885 the Republican ticket received 136,123 ballots, the total vote amounting to 288 504 out of a population of 1,512,565 in 1880, which exceeds the highest proportion of votes to population ever reached in the State of Massachusetts. There would try to convince the country that he was cheated out of a victory, but we think even Mahone lacks impudence enough to claim that an election was unfair in which his party is creditee with 25,000 more votes than it cast four years ago.

CURE FOR PILES.

Piles are frequently proceeded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indgestion are present, as flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture, like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is a very common attendant. FROM MEXICO.

The State of Monterey in the Hands of the Revolutionists --Martial Law to be Proclaimed and a Battle Expected.

GALVESTON, TEX., Dec. 2-A special from Villa Garcia has the following details of the revolution in Nuevo

Leon. The trouble seems to be that the people there are dissatisfied with the State government. The State officials deny this, and openly charge federal officials with secretly fermenting insurrection, for the purpose of creating an opportunity federal interference, which would lead to the proclamation of martial law and the appointment of a military governor. This plan has been pursued in other States. It is believed in north Mexico that the prime mover at present in the management of public affairs in the Republic of Mexico is Senor Romero Robio, secretary of State and father-in-law of President Diaz. He is regarded as the power behind the throne, and it is almost conceded in government circles that he will be the administration candidate for president to succeed Diaz, and his opponent will probably be Expresident Gonzales. The federal and municipal administration of pub-lic affairs throughout the State Neuvo Leon have, until lately, been in the hands of followers of Gonzales. Several weeks ago every Federal official friendly to Gonzales was dismissed and administration men appointed in their stead. Before the adjournment of the legislature, two weeks ago, the acting governor was authorized to call on the president for federal asssistance to put down the then anticipated revolution. President Disz answered this call, promising all federal aid necessary. On the strength of this promise the State officials disbanded the State forces in several municipalities, No sooner had this been done, than a revolutionary chieftain caused an uprising in several strongholds and declared openly against the State government. The acting governor immediately demanded federal assistance, in accordance with the president's promise. President Diaz could not constitutionally refuse the demand, and accordingly orders were issued notifying Governor Zepuveda that Gen. Reyis, commander of federal forces in Monterey, would sustain the State government. Exactly what orders were issued to Gen. Reyis is not known, but the impression prevails have been intimations that Mahone that he received official orders of one character and private instructions of another. When the governor notified Gen.

Reyis that the revolutionists were marching toward Monterey from all directions, Revis declined to furnish troops to fight them. The governor abandoned Monterey on Thursday, making his headquarters twenty miles The revolutionists, led by south. Manuel Rodriguez, reached the vicinity of Villa Garcia Sunday afternoon. Governor Zepuveda, fearing capture, made his escape on the approach of Rodriguez, and crossed over into the State of Conhula, where he is safe for the present. The revolutionists attacked the governor's small forces which did not follow him, but moved to Garcie, a small town twenty miles away. The governor's forces lost only two killed and five wounded, while the revolutionists, The members and officers were at- acts directly upon the parts affected, who were successful, lost five killed lowed their mileage and per diem and absorbing the Tumors, allaying the and ten wounded. The State is now without a governor, manent cure. Price, 50 cents. Ad- is expected almost hourly. The inactivity of Gen. Reyls leads to the common belief that the Federal government will immediately proclaim martial law in Neuvo Leon. All indications unmistakably point to a revolution of large proportions.

"Sluggar" Sullivan Denies the Report of His Marriage in Washington -- The White House Closed to Visitors.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2-John L. Sullivan, the pugilist, was interviewed yesterday on the subject of his alleged marriage. He said to a Sun reporter : 'How can I get married when I already have one wife. I am well acquainted with Miss Livingston, and when I heard she was in Washington, I visited her. We left the city together on the evening train on Sunday with notice of an appeal to the Grand Com- others of both companies. She was on her way to New York and went straight through."

The Heralds Washington special says: It is a rare occurrence for the sign "closed" to be seen on the door of the White House. Only two callers had interviews with the president yesterday-Secretaries Manning and Endicott. The president remained indoors all day. He devotes more time to public business than any two of the members of his cabinet, and has been forced to decline social visits of all kinds, though he has been constantly in receipt of invitations of this character. The indications are that the president will not indulge in social matters to any extent during the winter.

DIED AT DELTA, LA., NOV. 3, 1885,

I bend me o'er a lonely tomb So fondly strewn with flow'rs of love; And thence in mournful, silent gloom, My thoughts wing to the soul above, How cherished now the bare recall Of each faint trace that mem'ry holds,

Yet sad the thought beyond them all,

That toy shroud her form enfolds. Six years marked on the scroll of Time Record her blissful, wedded life-Death snatched away in sweetest prime The tender mother, loving wife. 'Reft husband let thy and tears flow To ease thy crushed and broken heart, For words are vain in hours of woe, No language sotace can impart.

Afar across the swelling wave. Two hearts are sent with sorrow deep, Her aged parents this must brave-Not e'en her grave o'er which to weep. Her home of sunny girlhood's scene Lies on the Ems most beauteous shore-

There loved ones wail in anguish keen, Alas ! Our MARY Is no more. Ah peace unto the spirit flown ? Sweet peace to hearts in sorrow left ! The mother from her heav'nly home Will guard her babes so sad bereft.

And when this pilgrimage is o'er, And death all earthly hopes shall blight, May then on to at far beaming shore, Each revered the for e'er unite.

A FRIEND. VICKSBUIIG, Nov. 28th, 1885.

A Case of Small-Pox in Chicago. CHICAGO, Dec. 2-The health officials were considerably alarmed yesterday afternoon by the report that small-pox had broken out at 130 Ambrose street. A physician from the depart-ment was sent at once to investigate, and found the rumor was well founded. A young man named Louis Maibaob, nineteen years of age, was found ill with a well defined case. The hospital ambulance was sent for and the young man was sent to the pest-house. He had been sick two or three days. Health officers vaccinnated other members of the family and others who had come in contact with the patient. The house and contents were all thoroughly fumigated. It is supposed that young Maiboab must have contracted the disease by infection from 279 Center street, less than two blocks distant, where a young man named Mulligan was stricken with the disease November 3d. Mulligan afterwards died at the small-pox hospital.

The Shooting of Deputy Collins by a Mormon.

SALT LAKE, Dec. 2-The Mormon church and city officials, as well as the shooting affray between a Mormon named McMawin and Deputy Collins, Saturday night, that the affair was entirery a personal one. They further claim that there has been no demonstration of armed men for Collins" capture. Gentiles, however, assert that the shooting was the result of Judge Zanz's ruling, punishing a Mormon named Burt for assaulting Deputy Collins a fortnight ago.

Important Measure in Regard to Steamboats on the Lakes.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2-A Washington special to the Post says Representative Carleton, of Michigan, will prepare for introduction in the house at the earliest opportunity, some bills of important bearing upon the com-merce of the great lakes and on passenger travel. He proposes bill requiring passenger steamers to leave a correct passenger list at every port at which they stop. The object is to provide accurate information in case of a disaster. The bill will make it a penal offence to neglect to leave a list correctly showing the number and names of persons on board at the ports of embarkation and the ports of destination.
